1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.
2. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The drawings are objected to because in figures 1 and 2 a nonstandard symbol is utilized to show the load as a "TL-lamp". The drawings are also objected to because in figure 2 box 19 is not labeled or shown as to its use or purpose. It should also be noted that in the specification the control circuit is denoted by the reference character 5 but in fact is instead denoted in figure 2 with the reference character 19.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action.

The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, each of the first to fourth switch elements formed by a semiconductor switch element with an anti-parallel bypass diode as recited by claim 3 must be shown or the feature canceled from the claim. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action.

The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

5. Claims 1-5 are objected to because in the last line of claim 1 "an" should be -- and--. Appropriate correction is required.
6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jang et al (US 6,353,547).

Jang et al teaches a DC/AC converter as recited by claims 1-3 and 5 except for specifying that the load is a TL-lamp. Official notice is taken that TL-lamp loads were old and known in the art at the time of the invention. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have utilized the DC/AC converter of Jang et al to provide AC power to a TL-lamp load instead of the transformer/rectifier load since it was well known in the art that most AC loads of DC/AC converters are interchangeable with the determination controlled only by what the specific load one desires to be powered.

8. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jang et al.

Jang et al teaches a DC/AC converter as recited by claim 4 except for specifying that the switch elements and control circuit are integrated onto a single semiconductor chip. The integration of the individual circuitry elements of a power converter onto a single semiconductor chip was an old and known expedient in the art at the time of the invention as illustrated by Mizutani (US 5,953,222 or 6,084,788) or Kijima et al (US 6,101,114) for example. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the DC/AC converter of Jang et al by integrating the individual circuitry elements of the DC/AC converter onto a single semiconductor chip in order to provide a small, compact, and conveniently packaged DC/AC converter.

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Nielsen (US 6,838,925) is cited to show a DC/AC converter equivalent to that of Jang et al (US 6,353,547).

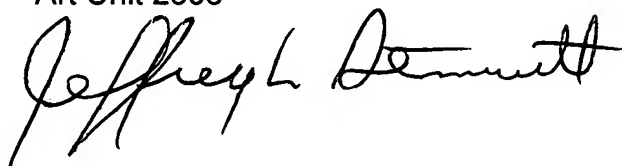

Baker (US 4,203,151), Tanaka et al (US 5,274,542), Bruckmann et al (US 5,949,669), and Yamanaka et al (US 6,226,192) are cited to show DC/AC converters old and known in the art at the time of the invention.
